Plaintiff has filed a motion to disqualify counsel, which is set for hearing on July 21, 2011. See Dkt. #38. The parties have completed briefing on the motion, however, Defendant has moved for leave to file a sur-reply, not to exceed ten pages in length. See Dkt. #61. Plaintiff opposes that motion, and, in the alternative, requests an opportunity to file a response if a sur-reply is allowed. See Dkt. #64.

Once a reply is filed, no additional briefing may be filed without Court approval. See Civ. L.R. 7-3(d). Here, the Court finds limited supplemental briefing appropriate. Accordingly, Defendant, by May 26, 2011, may file a sur-reply not to exceed 5 pages in length. Plaintiff may file a response to the sur-reply, by June 3, 2011, also not to exceed 5 pages in length.
